2023/24 Vermont Flooding - Updated 8/6/2024

What is a Long-Term Recovery Group (LTRG)?

LTRGs bring together community organizations – such as nonprofits, faith-based organizations, government representatives and businesses – to help people with long-term recovery needs after a disaster.

What they do:

- unite community members
- pool resources
- communicate important information
- organize volunteers, and
- bring in resources and money to help address people's unmet needs.

Depending on the capacity and mission of the LTRG, they may be able to help you with:

- rental assistance
- temporary housing
- relocation assistance
- home repair
- construction
- connection to legal services and other volunteer organizations
